

OUR JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

Our special artist has prepared for us a diagram of the proposed Judicial District in which Montgomery is to be placed. Isn't it a beauty? Elliott county was to be included in this district, but for some unexplained reason—we suppose the committee had a good one—it is to be left out, we are told. The attention of the committee is respectfully called to the hand some appearance their work makes. They have great reason to be proud of it. It is not a shoestring, a cross nor a crescent. A murrain on the thing, we don't like its looks; it smacks of a job. Look at the length of it from the extreme west line of Montgomery to the eastern boundary of Magoffin or Carter and then see the distance north and south across Meneese or the narrow neck, of Carter. 'Oh, it is a daisy', and reflects credit on the brain that evolved it. Gentlemen, of the committee, we congratulate you on the fidelity you are displaying to the trust the people have reposed in you.

THE CONGRESSIONAL VACANCY.

The death of Congressman Kendall, which cast such a widespread gloom over this district, leaves a vacancy that it now becomes the duty of the people to fill. It is necessary that the most careful discrimination should be exercised in order that the most available man may be selected to represent us at the National Capital. There is no difficulty in selecting a man who would be glad to accept the position, with its attendant salary, but to secure one who possesses the necessary energy, capacity and general knowledge of the needs of the district is no light a task. We are informed the number of those who would thus sacrifice their private interests for the public good is legion and that almost every county in the district has one.

"No, sir, you didn't seem so," said a "Republican" yesterday as we have but a slight acquaintance and some of them are almost totally unknown to us. Without doubt some among them are good men. There are others whom the people are urging to make this race, and who are loath to put forward any claims, they may have on the people of the district. Among the latter class is our fellow-townsmen Hon. C. R. Brooks, a man in every way fitted to fill the vacant place. Young, brilliant, active, full of energy, in keen touch with the people and their wants, a lawyer of ability and a man of industry, full of health and physical vigor. We know of no man in the district who so fully meets the requirements for the position. Politically he is a Democrat, who has made the principles and practices of the party his study all his life long. Yet in the face of the fact that his friends here and elsewhere are bringing all the pressure possible to bear on him, to announce himself as a candidate, will give no assurance that he will make the race. He was, it will be remembered the contending candidate against Mr. Kendall for the Democratic nomination and was barely defeated, yet without one thought of bitterness he threw himself into the canvass for Kendall as if the race were his own. We wish we had the authority to present the name of Caleb R. Brooks to the Democrats of the district as their standard bearer. Should he agree to announce himself and the people send him to Congress would make a Representative of whom we might well be proud. The election, however, has not yet been called by the Governor and when this is done we may then have the pleasure of presenting Mr. Brooks' name to the Democrats of the district.

David B. Hill, of New York, cannot, in justice to the party, be nominated as the head of the Democratic National ticket. Local elections all over New York is a proof of this. The fights are almost universally Hillian as against Clevelandism with results against the Hill following. There is but one construction on this: that Hill is not acceptable to his own State, and should be no nominated it would require the concentration of forces in New York, while other States just as necessary in an electoral count would be neglected. The National Convention can not afford to nominate either Hill or Cleveland.

THE APPELLATE JUDGESHIP.

Some our Republican friends in this part of the State, particularly among the journalists of that color, are getting exceedingly anxious as to who shall be Judge Holt's successor on the Appellate Bench. Of course they can see no reason why the Judge should not succeed himself. It is equally apparent why they cannot bring themselves to believe that it is otherwise than for the best interests of all, that this much desired end should be brought about. They are proud that Judge Holt is a Republican. They are right; it increases the average of respectability in their ranks to have him so. As a Republican, they boast, he will command the solid vote of his party, and since this is a non-political (?) office, they expect for him the letters in full from which the following extracts are taken: "The declaration that this is a 'non-political office,' taken in connection with the almost immediate statement that 'Judge Holt, as a Republican, will receive the solid vote of his party' sounds well, and so do not all can see it is a reason for a division of the Democratic vote.

As far as the Judges on the bench being biased in their decisions, toward the right or wrong of a question, because one of the litigants is a Democrat and the other a Republican, not one of them, we are sure, would be freer from such bias than would the learned Chief Justice. But the custom for many years past has been to bring 'politics' into the race for such positions, and the day has long passed when a Republican can preach such doctrine as that any office is non-political. We are not discussing Judge Holt's fitness or unfitness for the position. His decisions when 'sitting' have, as far as we know, been both able and just. But notwithstanding all our friends say of him personally—and we will not gainsay one word of it—yet the fact remains that he is not only an avowed, but an active Republican, who endorses every principle and practice of his party; who endorses the present administration so partial to the moneyed class, as against the wisdom and interests of the common people; the Force Bill and all the train of evils it have brought upon us; the Billion Dollar Congress, with its infamous Tariff Bill; in short he swallows without a gulp all that his party does or attempts to do. It takes an immense amount of gall to ask Democrats to give their votes to Judge Holt, gentleman and honest though he be, for one of the highest offices within the gift of the people of the State, when there are Democrats offering for the position, who are just as well versed in law, just as honest, just as true and just as pure as he.

Judge Holt will not succeed himself. There has been a bill introduced into the House at Frankfort to disqualify a juror from serving in the Circuit Courts of the State more than once in two years.

The Praise, the Glory, the Honor Due to the Persistent Efforts of J. S. Spaulding, Elmira, N. Y., Assisted by

THE MT. STERLING COMMERCIAL CLUB.

About four weeks ago, Mr. J. S. Spaulding, of Elmira, N. Y., a gentleman of brain and nerve, who, for many years, has been actively engaged in showing to capitalists the rich resources, along the proposed line of the C. K. & W., which is to traverse the State from Cincinnati through the bluegrass belt, tobacco, hemp, corn, hay, and stock producing section, tapping the resources of Eastern Kentucky, penetrating the resources of the West, was in the city with a view of arranging for organizing immediately and beginning operations. By consultation with J. M. Bigstaff, N. H. Trimble and Adam Baum, President and Directors of the Executive Board and members of the Commercial Club, including some of our leading lawyers, it was agreed that he should open subscription books for stock and obtain the amount required by the charter in order to organize permanently.

After receiving data in regard to local business, shipments to and from towns along the proposed line, he returned to New York, opened books for subscription, and in a few hours the required stock was taken, and a permanent organization was entered into with Mr. Allison, of London, Eng., President. Foreign capitalists are thoroughly acquainted with this route and its various connections, and Mr. Spaulding informs us that both English and German capitalists are ready to put down money sufficient for the construction and equipment of the C. K. & W.

With this road completed our people, we mean the people of Kentucky, would be largely benefited. Unlimited amounts of the finest timber from native forests, inexhaustive fields of bituminous, coal and coke, coal of the highest grade, in addition to the best grades of iron ore, the finest free-stone, fire clay, &c., are found, and would be developed, making this the best paying line in this country; and of this capitalists are fully aware, and are, therefore, willing to put their money into the investment.

Five years ago the charter of this road, being limited, was about to expire, when, in consideration of the benefits to be derived by the State, and an agreement on the part of Mr. Spaulding and his associates that Mt. Sterling should be a fixed point through which this road should be constructed, the Mt. Sterling Commercial Club, through its committee and at its own expense, with persistent efforts and continued labor, succeeded, with slight amendments, in perpetuating it. Mr. Spaulding had spent years—the better part of his life and a nice little fortune—in attempting to build this road, and arriving at this point the Commercial Club gave timely assistance. The finishing touch, the permanent organization was effected by the untiring efforts of Mr. Spaulding and his associates, and the Executive Committee and the friends at this point the praise, the glory and honor is due. From Mr. Spaulding's private statements, as well as public utterances, we are warranted in the belief that this road will be built, and within a very short time. Men and money are the only requisites, and the millions of English and German money can supply them. A letter from Mr. Spaulding to Col. J. M. Bigstaff, published in the last issue of the Sentinel-Democrat, is of such interest that we reproduce it for the benefit of our readers:

"SPENCER, TIOGA COUNTY, N. Y., February 27, 1892. 'Col. J. M. Bigstaff, Mt. Sterling, Ky.—DEAR SIR: I concluded to take your advice and open stock books for the subscription for the common stock for the Charleston, Kentucky and Western Railroad Company. I found this a very difficult task to get good men to put their names to stock subscription for a certain amount, which is nothing less than signing a note due on demand, and only about $250,000 have been subscribed. The subscribers have organized the company by electing a President, Vice-President and Board of Directors in accordance with the terms of the charter and under the best legal advice. Mr. Allison, of London, is at the head of the C. K. & W. enterprise. Yours truly, 'J. S. SPAULDING.'

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says: Distribution of products is unquestionably improving. Transactions are on the whole larger than a year ago in spite of depression at the South, being very much larger at the West. Nor is improvement confined to that section, though general there; it is also more distinctly felt in Eastern cities, and there are not wanting signs that trade at the South, though still much embarrassed by the low price of cotton, is steadily gaining. With all the great industries active, with money abundant in spite of gold exports, and with speculation kept in wholesome check, the outlook would seem to be unusually favorable, notwithstanding general complaints that the prices are low and margins of profit usually small.

THE SEPARATE COACH BILL.

The Frankfort Canine says: "The separate car bill has been passed, giving the colored man a sleeping car, and the colored man, come out of winter quarters before the dawn of bloom, and be put to a square test vote. What the result will be none can say; what it ought to be there is no doubt. If it is not to become a law it was an unlucky day when it was introduced."

We believe the proposed law to be in the interest of peace and good order. It needs no argument to prove that the two races do not get along well when confined within too narrow limits. In the interest of all then this law is a just one. Certainly our record is bloody enough to cause our law-makers to throw every safeguard around us possible in order to prevent any further staining of the State's good name. The strongest argument used by the colored race why this law should not be done, viz: "That the better class among them do not wish to be compelled to mingle with the depraved of their race," only becomes a stronger argument why our wives and daughters, when riding on a train should not be exposed to insults and perhaps, as has happened, to violence at the hands of the vicious among the negroes. Give us separate coaches and many of the past troubles of traveling will be avoided, and the State saved much expense.

Kentucky After Half A Million.

Senator Carlisle introduced a bill to reimburse the State of Kentucky for arms, ordnance and ordnance stores issued to volunteers and militia organizations and U. S. ordnance officers and used in aiding to suppress the rebellion against the United States. Senator Carlisle was asked by a Commercial Gazette correspondent what would be the amount to be paid to Kentucky under this bill. Mr. Carlisle said he thought that it would range between five and six hundred thousand dollars. There had been an endeavor to settle the matter with the Treasury Department, but it had been dismissed, and Senator Carlisle thinks, inasmuch as other States had had similar refunds, Kentucky should not be left out.

HORSE AND TRACK.

Five trotters are expected to beat 2:08 this year.

Every stall at the Lexington fair ground is occupied by a trotter.

Allerton will spend the balance of his life at Independence.

Marrin has purchased a $12,000 residence at Meadville, Pa.

Fourteen of Nutwood's get have sold this year for $42,980, an average of $3,070.

Every man who is breeding trotters expects some time to raise a phenomenon.

Deceiving the merits of your neighbors' animals will not build up the reputation of your own.

A sister to Direct will be bred to Stambol this year. She is owned by Joseph Outhwaite, of Cleveland.

A bay colt has been foaled at Palo Alto, by the great colt Adviser, 2:16, out of Waxana, dam of Sunol.

A great horse is like a great man. He will make opportunities in spite of circumstances, and make himself famous.

There are only two sons of Hambletonian 10 that rank above Aberdeen as sire of speed. They are Electioneer and Geo. Wilkes.

Baby McKee, Worth, Election Bell and Palo Alto Bell, all by Electioneer, recently sold at auction for $69,900, an average of $17,400.

It never pays to bid a horse in at a sale, as a decline in his value sets in from that hour and keeps getting lower and lower as the week roll by.

The highest priced colt does not always make the fast trotter or the greatest sire. Blood lines minus individual excellence is not very far from a blank.

Senator Stanford says he looks for Palo Alto to lower the stallion record to 2:06 this year, and he has fillets that ought to trot close to Sunol's 2:04.

Because a breeder thinks his stock will bring big prices he does not follow what the public thinks so. And the public's estimate is generally the correct one.

L. L. Dorsey, of Louisville, has bought of Ben Johnson the stallion Earl, 2:23, for $6,000. Mr. Johnson paid $5,100 for the horse last week at Cleveland sale.

Uncle Jack Hood has challenged Ralph Wilkes for a race next October at Lexington, Ky., with his fast filly Annona. He wants it for $1,000 or $1,500 a side. He has no objection to P. A. Hamlin entering Chimes Girl.

Teach your colts to travel with their heads up—a low-headed horse is not attractive. But don't let them stand long checked up; always throw off the check or slacken it when you leave your horse standing. It is not the use, but the abuse, of the check-rein that does the damage.

St. Joseph, Mo., is coming into prominence on account of the importance of her horse interests. The Herald says that ten stallions are owned there which $150,000 could not buy, while $500,000 would be a low estimate of the value of all the trotting stock owned in the vicinity.

In an interview in New York recently Senator Stanford is reported to have expressed dissatisfaction at the prices he received for the consignment of colts which he sold in the east. He attributes what he calls low prices to the fact that the youngsters were undeveloped, and he stated that in the future he will send stallions east but colts that have shown ability to go out and trot fast.

When an owner of a stallion three years old and over tells you that his horse has not been worked, that he prefers to wait until he is fully matured before developing him, when without a doubt he will be able to secure a very fast record, don't believe him, for he is not telling the truth. The horse can't trot and never will. "The fully matured system before being developed" is a thing of the past.

There is much rejoicing among the Palo Alto folks over the advent of two lusty-looking colts that came into the equine world last Monday. They are both by Palo Alto, the King. One is out of that great mare, Beautiful Bella, the "Queen of mares," the other is out of Elaine, 2:30, the famous dam of Noline, 2:34, the

This horrible story comes from Mexico: Among the Indians near Chihuahua the belief in witchcraft is general and for a number of years an old woman has held the Indians of that locality in great fear by her alleged powers over life and death, and was accused of eating young children. When the woman was known to be away from her house, a party of men went there and found horrible evidences that she had indulged in eating children's flesh. There were not only the bones to be seen, but a partly eaten child was also found. When she returned she was burned at the stake, and the people ate small portions of her body, in order to keep off any evils that might befall them for killing her.

The Commonwealth's Attorney, by the direction of the Attorney General, filed suit in the Louisville Law and Equity Court Tuesday to have the charter of the Frankfort Lottery canceled and its business suppressed. A similar action was brought against the Henry County College Lottery.

Talk From a Horse.

Don't ask me to "back" with blinds on. I am afraid to.

Don't lend me to some blockhead that has less sense than I have.

Don't think because I am a horse that iron weeds and briars won't hurt my hay.

Don't be so careless of my harness as to find a great sore on me before you attend to it.

Don't run me down a steep hill, for if anything should give way I might break your neck.

Don't whip me when I get frightened along the road, or I will expect it next time and maybe make trouble.

Don't think because I am free under the whip I don't get tired. You would move up if under the whip.

Don't put on my blind bridle so that it irritates my eyes, or so leave my forelock that it will be in my eyes.

Don't hitch me to an iron post or railing when the mercury is below freezing. I need the skin on my tongue.

Don't keep my stable very dark, for when I go out into the light my eyes are injured, especially if snow be on the ground.

Don't leave me hitched in my stall at night with a big cob right where I must lie down. I am tired and can't select a smooth place.

Don't forget to file my teeth when they get jagged and I cannot chew my food. When I get lean it is a sign my teeth want filing.

Don't say whoa unless you mean it. It may check me if the lines break and save a runaway and smash-up.

Don't forget the old book, that is a friend of all the oppressed, that says "A merciful man is merciful to his beast."

Don't make me drink ice cold water, nor put a frosty bit in my mouth. Warm the bit by holding a half-minute against my body.

Don't compel me to eat more salt than I want by mixing it with my oats. I know better than any other animal how much I need.

Don't trot me up hill, for I have to carry you and the buggy and myself, too. Try it yourself some time. Run up hill with a big load.—Courier-Journal.

Hogs of Value.

A boar was on exhibition at some of the Southern fairs last fall which weighed over 1,500 pounds. Some idiot said it was worth $5,000. For practical purposes it was worth nothing. What we want now are hogs that will make moderate weights, and make them quick; that will grow up to 200 pounds or something over in a few months; give choice hams of 14 or 16 pounds each, and lean breakfast bacon. Such hogs are worth $5,000—when you get enough of them.—Texas Live Stock Journal.

Plant the seeds of good fruit; if they do not reproduce the same fruit they may produce that which is equally valuable.

A writer in an eastern exchange says that the spores of rust and other like fungus parasites on trees are scattered in great part by the falling leaves, which are blown in all directions.

The cold weather in January and February is said to have killed part of the fruit in Illinois. About three-fourths of the peaches are killed. Apples and strawberries were also injured.

Why should the kitchen garden be neglected, when it is probably the best paying piece of ground on the farm? It not only gives cash return for the work bestowed upon it, but it gives positive pleasure to the man that does the work, provided that the garden be not too large.

Cleanings.

Some of the best butter-makers never use soap in cleaning the churn and other dairy utensils. They use tepid, warm and scalding water in the order given.

Warmth and moisture, so necessary to the growth of cucumbers under glass, also favor the development of mildew. The two most common varieties are the downy and powdery mildews, the former attacking outdoor culture, the latter discovered only in greenhouse culture. As a preventive use the vapor of sulphur; not the fumes of burning sulphur.

Apples grown in grass ground will keep longer than the same fruit grown on cultivated land. Late keeping varieties therefore, should always be grown in grass lands.

There must be a particularly hot spot in the earth under Wheeling, W. Va. It is hoped to sink the well now being driven there at least a mile.

The well is a little less than five inches in diameter. Its peculiarity is that no vein of water has been tapped, and being perfectly dry, scientific men have an unexampled opportunity to conduct their investigations.

The temperature is being taken at various depths. At a depth of 1350 feet the temperature is 68 degrees; at 2375 feet, 79 degrees; at 3375 feet, 92 degrees; at 4375 feet, 108 degrees; and at 4425 feet it is 111 degrees. Thus the temperature is increasing faster and faster the deeper the boring.

For instance, the increase in the 1000 feet from 2375 3375 feet is about 13 degrees, while the increase in the next 1000 feet is more than 16 degrees.

If the heat goes on increasing in similar progression, a depth will be reached before long where every solid substance will be melted. That, however, will be no indication that the same state of things exists everywhere under the earth's crust, for wells driven in other parts of the world have shown very different rates in the increase of heat, says the New York Sun.

W. A. SUTTON, East Main Street, Mt. STERLING, KENTUCKY. FURNITURE.

I AM in it to win, and will do it by handling only the best make of goods and selling at a small profit. The time is off for success in a small business with large profits. BUSINESS MEN can only hope to attain success, in this day of progress, by many sales, each article bearing a small profit; and then, every customer must be treated alike. How unfair it is to sell to one man at a certain price, and because his neighbor is a little closer, to sell to him for less money. It is not right. My stock of FURNITURE is entirely NEW, not a piece of old stock. It has been purchased for the cash, it is in my store less all discounts. Buying my entire stock at once, by car-load shipments, I am saved considerable freight expense, and by these methods my stock is put in the store much cheaper than when small orders are made, hence I can sell at VERY CLOSE FIGURES, saving money to my customers and making some for myself. Goods which I have subjected to very low prices:

BED ROOM SUITS, DINING-ROOM FURNITURE, PARLOR SUITS, FOLDING BEDS, WARDROBES, BOOK-CASES, SIDE-BOARDS, ETC.

I also keep a complete line of CASKETS in my Undertaking Department, and, having graduated in this business, in offering my services it is with the confidence that I understand the business and can give satisfaction.

At the Methodist Conference in session at California, Ky., on the evening of the 8th instant, great excitement prevailed. Rev. Northcut, in his discourse on the history of the church, brought out his bloody shirt and waved it to the extent that Rev. Mr. Minor, of the M. E. Church South, took exception to what was said and for a while pandemonium reigned. Cooler heads took in the situation and quiet was finally restored. Rev. Mr. Cleveland was last week, in Maryland, on a duck-shooting trip. A reporter of the Baltimore Sun reports the following interview with him: "What is your opinion," he was asked, "should be the main issue of the Democratic party in appealing to the voters of the country?"

"All evidence," replied the ex-President, "of what the people want and what they expect of the party would seem clearly to indicate that tariff reform must be the issue if we are to go into a winning fight."

"What do you consider the best plan of attacking the tariff in Congress?"

"My idea has been that a general bill would be the best method, but I am willing to defer to those who are on the ground and who have the battle in Congress to fight. I hope the Springer free wool bill will pass, and also in favor of any other measure which will lighten the burden of taxation now resting upon the people. In fact, I favor any measure in the direction of genuine tariff reform."

"What are the prospects of the Democratic party's ultimate success?"

"I have but one opinion on that subject. If the party is true to itself, true to its principles and fulfills its pledge to the people it cannot fail."

STATE OF KENTUCKY, MONTGOMERY COMMON PLEAS COURT.
JENNIE R. MORRIS, v. W. L. MORRIS, Defendant.

To WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: Notice is hereby given that the undersigned have this day filed their joint petition in Montgomery County Pleas Court, praying the Court to appoint a female guardian for Jennie R. Morris, to use, enjoy, sell and convey for her own benefit such real and personal property as may be devised to her by her husband, to make contracts as and to be used as a feme sole to trade as such and to dispose of her property by will or otherwise.

JENNIE R. MORRIS, W. L. MORRIS, By A. A. HAZELRIGG, Attorney.

Statistics of the Census Bureau show that in 1889 Kentucky produced 93.77 per cent. of all the hemp grown in the United States. What a pity Kentucky cannot use the hemp as well as she can raise it. A free use of it would largely tend to diminish the large crop of murderers that now stain her otherwise fair name.

Bettie Moore, of Stocks Branch, West Va., was found murdered, it was supposed by Jack Adkins a worthless fellow. It turns out she was murdered by a woman who thought the girl was going to marry her divorced husband.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The great problem is to check the increase of population in the cities, which makes morality and decency almost impossible. As long as that exists, charities cannot do their full work, nor do it effectively. We may establish numberless fresh-air funds, yet the children continue to live and die like rats in a sewer. . . . If we would keep people away from the towns, we must make life in the country less burdensome, and work in the country more remunerative.—Boston Hall.

"The death of your husband was a great loss to you," said Mr. Bunting to Mrs. Gasket, by way of condolence. "Oh, the loss was fully covered by insurance," replied the widow.
